Editor's Comment

WE feel it is not our place to take sides in the debate over the future of Frodsham's historic Goods Shed.

Certainly Frodsham has a parking problem and certainly something needs to be done about it, but whether making room for 60 additional parking spaces by demolishing the Goods Shed is the answer is debateable.

So is the issue of whether parking charges should be introduced, but it would appear that is going to happen whether we like it or not and, in any case, we have previously voiced our opposition.

Right now, residents have the opportunity of influencing things by taking part in a consultation exercised launched, belatedly, by Cheshire West and Chester Council (CW&C) on whether the Goods Shed should be demolished.

We do not have much confidence in public consultations generally, and in this case we have less than usual.

CW&C has already stated that because of the tight timescales involved, they may have to submit a planning application before they know the outcome of the consultation. Hardly an indication they have open minds on the subject.

Nevertheless, whether for or against the demolition of the building, we urge all residents to make their voices heard by taking part in the consultation. The important thing is that lots of people make their voices heard.

Public apathy is the only excuse CW&C will need to do what they want anyway.

Lunch with the Queen

CHAIRMAN of Frodsham Town Council Alan Oulton represented the town and council at the civic lunch in Chester attended by The Queen and Meghan, Duchess of Sussex.

Cllr Oulton stepped in to attend the event because the Mayor and Deputy Mayor were unavailable due to other commitments.

He said: "I was fortunate in being seated not too far from Her Majesty and the Duchess. It was an amazing experience that I will cherish forever."

Cllr Oulton had an amusing footnote to the story:

"Fin, my youngest grandson, got slightly confused and informed his class and teacher: 'The Queen is coming to my grandad's house for dinner.'"

Deadline for the August issue of Frodsham Life is July 24

Former Mayor and chair of council attend Royal Garden Party

THE former Mayor Of Frodsham Mallie Poulton, and the past chairman of Frodsham Town Council Cllr Judith Critchley recently attended a Royal Garden Party at Buckingham Palace, by invitation of The Queen.

Mr Poulton said: "It was with great pride we were able to accept this kind invitation as recognition of the past Mayor's work and the chair's role in making the year a success for charities in and around Frodsham and further afield.

"To be recognised in this way was humbling and as you can see by our photo we were right in the middle of things.

"We would like to thank all who made it possible, and those who supported our great year."

Curtain to rise on the magic of Broadway

THE magic of Broadway is coming to Frodsham – an all singing, all dancing musical theatre tribute with a cast of 45 local talented adults and children.

The show will run at Frodsham Community Centre from August 16-18, at 7.30pm each evening.

It will be a song and dance through some of the very best Broadway musicals to ever grace the stage.

Rehearsals have been ongoing since April and the cast have been having a great time learning modern musical theatre choreography to musical classics, as well as routines from currently popular productions.

Creative directors Kayleigh

Strong and Joel Merry are upbeat about the show.

"We had a sell-out run of shows last year, and the amount of incredible feedback was beyond what we could have expected. This show is about trying to do something different with musical theatre songs that everyone knows and loves.

"We're working with a cast of young local performers who are in training, and are serious about pursuing careers either on Broadway or in the West End.

"Some of our cast are currently training at The Hammond School, along with others training in different musical theatre degree courses around the country, but everyone involved lives locally and so it is fantastic that they're able to come on stage in Frodsham to show our audiences the kind of passion and talent that we have in the area, and why it's so important that we continue to support community theatre."

The show features some of the very best songs from musicals such as Les Miserables, 42nd Street, The Greatest Showman, Miss Saigon, Wicked, On The Town..and more!

Among those taking part are Jasmine Brand, Jack Fletcher, Amelia Duggie, Sophia Bunning, Kayleigh Ann Strong, Emma Humphreys, Ciera Evans and Joel Merry.

Vote for your high street shops

FRODSHAM councillor Lynn Riley is encouraging local people to nominate local shopping streets for the upcoming "Great British High Street Awards."

Cllr Riley, leader of the Conservative opposition group on Cheshire West and Chester Council believes shopping streets in Frodsham and Helsby are worthy of the title.

She said: "Our local high street is at the heart of our local communities, and this competition will celebrate the creativity of the many businesses which are so vital to preserving our high streets."

"Locally we are lucky to have such vibrant independent traders and Frodsham and Helsby are fantastic centres with a real community feel."

"I would urge everyone to get involved in this important competition and encourage our communities to enter their high streets for the Great British High Street Awards 2018."

The awards, sponsored by Visa, celebrate local achievements on high streets and are designed to encourage communities to share top tips to make their high streets a success, shining a light on great examples of how high streets can meet new challenges.

Community teams, councils and trading associations can register their local high streets by visiting thegreatbritishhighstreet.co.uk. Members of the public can also register their high street.

The 26 shortlisted entries in the Champion High Street category and 12 Rising Stars will be announced in October. They will then go through to a public vote and be visited by a judging panel made up of industry leaders from across retail, property and business.

Britain's best high street will be announced in November, with the winner receiving a £10,000 cash prize for a local community project.

Council move to protect its own land

MEMBERS of Frodsham Town Council's community committee are recommending moves to protect the council's land assets.

They will recommend the full council to agree to register all council-owned land, except Ship Street, with Cheshire West and Chester Council (CW&C) and with Fields in Trust.

The committee was told that registering land as assets of community value with CW&C would give local communities six months to find the funds to buy the land while registering with FIT provided contractual protection.

Cllr Judith Critchley was concerned that registering with FIT would tie future councils to long term maintenance costs.

Cllrs Mark Nield and Cllr Alan Oulton felt it was the council's duty to protect as much land as possible.

The committee agreed to recommend that all council land, with the exception of Ship Street, be registered with both CW&C and FIT.

Land of Beds honour team members at annual awards night

Land of Beds – Britain's 'Retail Family Business of the Year' – have praised employees at their Staff Recognition Awards following another year of record-breaking sales.

2018 has been highly eventful for the Frodsham and Helsby-based bed and mattress retailer, who have also branched out into Greater Manchester with the opening of a new showroom in Pemberton. The Family Director Team were keen to celebrate the business' achievements in style – hosting a glittering awards night at Frodsham's Mojito 88 Club on a glorious summer's evening.

The occasion was made all the more special as it marked the ruby wedding anniversary of Directors Mike Murray Snr and his wife Maria. Their son, Managing Director Mike Jnr, paid tribute to his parents and the hard work of the whole team before revealing this year's award winners.

The night's top accolade – 'Employee of the Year' – is voted for by every member of the team within the business, and it went to Nicola Shingler-Jolley, who was described by her colleagues as 'an amazing person to work with' and 'an asset to the company'.

Speaking on behalf of the Directors, Mike said: "Nicola has been a joy to work with over the last 12 months; she has really developed into an excellent, reliable and enthusiastic member of the team."

'Her positive attitude around the place is infectious and she has become a great role model for her colleagues.'

As well as winning an award for her efforts, Nicola was also treated to a weekend away at a luxury log cabin.

'Outstanding Contribution' winner Sam Mills was applauded for helping to diversify the business' sales channels – leading to extra turnover and brand recognition – as well as making a significant contribution to the functionality of the company website.

Along with his award, Sam was also presented with two tickets to a 'Beer Masterclass' at the Brewhouse & Kitchen in Chester, where beers from across the globe are sampled during a two-hour tasting experience.

Finally, Sharron Yates was crowned 'Rising Star', and was credited for her 'amazing organisational skills' and for 'transforming financial recording procedures and the monitoring of company policies and contracts'.

Sharron was the proud recipient of both an award and two tickets to an 'indulgent Champagne afternoon tea' at Chester's iconic Grosvenor Hotel.

Reflecting on the evening, Mike said: "Saying 'thank you' and 'well done' is a huge part of our company culture; it was such a pleasure to see our team having fun with their colleagues and toasting each other's success."

'It truly has been inspirational to see how they have all developed over the last 12 months, and I told them: 'If we continue to care about each other and work hard for one another, then amazing things are going to happen!'"

Community award for Manor House Primary

YEAR Five pupils from Frodsham Manor House Primary School were delighted to be named as winners of the "School in the Community" award at the Cheshire School Awards.

They enjoyed an afternoon at the awards ceremony at the Queens Hotel, Chester.

The award recognised the school's inspiring local and international community involvement.

Inner Wheel club's £7,000 donations to charity

FRODSHAM Inner Wheel Club raised £7,000 for charity as a result of fundraising over the last year.

President Moira Clow, charity chairman Teresa Mann and International chairman Michelle Heyes made presentations to representatives of Motor Neurone Disease and Medcare – the charities the club has been supporting.

The club would like to thank everyone who assisted them physically or financially or in giving raffle prizes.

A spokesperson said: "The generous donations we made to these charities would not have been possible without the support we received from the community."

An ABBA tribute night at Frodsham Community Centre one of the fundraising events Inner Wheel organised.

Does Frodsham want to s

A CONSULTATION exercise to gauge public opinion on the future of Frodsham's historic Good Shed has been launched by Cheshire West and Chester Council (CW&C).

Residents have until Friday, July 13 to submit their views – but the authority has warned that because of the tight timescales involved, it may be necessary for them to submit a planning application to demolish the Goods Shed before the end of the consultation.

DW&C says car parking at Frodsham Station is becoming increasingly difficult and, with the imminent re-opening of the Halton Curve, the pressure on the car park will only increase.

The council is keen to seek solutions to maximise the number of available parking places at the station car park.

"As a minimum, it is planned to surface and properly line the rough ground at the bottom of the car park but this alone will not meet the anticipated demand that has been identified in the council's parking strategy," the council states.

"It is therefore proposed to demolish the goods shed which would provide up to 60 additional parking spaces and improve the frontage to the station platform with attractive landscaping."

CW&C says it is keen to understand what local opinion is on this proposal.

But the council adds: "Due to the short timescales concerning the Halton Curve, CW&C may need to submit a provisional planning application for demolition before the end of the consultation."

"Please be assured that the council will take into account the outcome of the consultation before deciding whether or not to progress the application. Should the application be progressed there will be a further (statutory) consultation."

More than three years ago, Frodsham Foundation – which was dissolved in March last year – put forward proposals to re-develop the Goods Shed – having been offered a 25-year lease on the building by CW&C, who own it. But an application to the Heritage Lottery Fund for a grant to help fund the project was rejected so the scheme was never progressed.

At the time it was estimated cost of restoring the building would be around £1.3 million and a survey carried out by Frodsham Town Council indicated that 80 per cent of respondents would like to see the building renovated for public use.

Anyone who would like to comment on the current proposals should email parking@cheshirewestandchester.gov.uk or write to Parking Services, 4 Civic Way, Ellesmere Port, CH65 0BE.

Save historic Goods Shed?

Deputy Mayor has made up his mind

FRODSHAM's deputy Mayor, Cllr Liam Jones, has already given his response to the Goods Shed consultation.

He said: "I think, if the proposed plans were to go ahead, we will have missed a golden opportunity for Frodsham to add something great to our town, that could help our local economy and be a gateway to our town with the extra footfall from the Halton Curve."

"The proposals to create 60 additional car parking spaces will only be a sticking plaster and not a long term solution to the car parking problem that we have."

Cllr Jones said he would like to see Cheshire West and Chester Council develop a plan to use the Goods Shed as a community, cultural, technology driven hub for the benefit of the community.

He said other parts of the borough, such as Neston and Northwich, had benefited from investment with new leisure facilities. He would like to see a fair share of investment in Frodsham.

Unfortunately, it seemed Frodsham was regarded as a "cash cow" through increased taxes but receiving no investment.

Cllr Jones added that the consultation was too late. The Halton Curve was due to open in December and the consultation should have been carried out last year.

Keeping it in the family

WHEN Paul Hazeldine was made redundant three years ago he decided to set up his own business – Hazeldine's Home and Garden Maintenance.

But never in his wildest dreams did he expect it to grow as much as it has.

By the end of 2017 they were turning business away, having undertaken some superb projects for customers in addition to carrying out regular garden maintenance.

"We needed to make a decision," said Paul. "Carry on turning people away or recruit a second team. We decided to do the latter."

The decision coincided with

Paul's wife, Lindsay, also being made redundant so it was a "no brainer" said Paul. "Lindsay loves gardening, so it made sense to give it ago".

Together with Andy, a family friend, Lindsay and Andy are filling up the diary quickly.

Paul added: "We have such an array of customers, from small gardens to large properties and businesses. Many people need more than a fortnightly mow and hoe. We've installed greenhouse bases, patios, raised beds, restored patios, painted fences, cleaned ponds, repaired shed roofs and built gazebos."

Lindsay said: "It has been such a refreshing change to work outdoors and to meet Paul's customers. It can be quite hard at times but the reward in leaving a garden nice and tidy is great. Paul is a great boss too – who could ask for more?"

Hazeldine Home and Garden is based nearby in Daresbury and serve Stockton Heath, Appleton, Hatton, Moore, Lymm, Sandymoor and surrounding villages. If you think you could use their services you can email hazeldinehomeandgarden@gmail.com or call 01928742830 and leave a message.

Head students' team takes up its duties

A NEW team of Head Students has taken up its duties at Helsby High School's Sixth Form.

The five students – all currently in Year 12 – will represent the Sixth Form both within the school and out in the wider community.

Sixth Form director Ian Duffell said: "We are all really looking forward to working with such a talented and dedicated team of Head Students, and with the outstanding wider leadership group of Year 12 students who are taking up roles to further develop the Sixth Form in crucial areas such as teaching and learning and mental health.

"We are privileged to have such a high calibre cohort of student leaders here in Helsby Sixth Form and I know that they will be working hard to support and inspire students throughout the school over the coming year."

High school pupils' visit to France

A PARTY of 44 students and five teachers from Helsby High School spent four days in northern France – just five minutes from a sandy beach.

The Year 8 pupils were encouraged to try out their language skills during the stay.

A highlight of the trip was a visit to a boulangerie where the baker demonstrated how he bakes baguettes every night.

The pupils then had a go at making their own pains au chocolat and croissants.

They visited a market, enjoyed a picnic on the beach and played "crazy golf."

Pupils had differing views on a visit to a snail farm, learning about their life cycles and then sampling them. Some purchased gifts to take home for their families – jars of pickled snails and snail soup!

A walk in the woods enabled pupils to build a shelter using rope, tarpaulin, logs and twigs.

Pupils found a visit to a World War 1 cemetery at Etaples very moving and two boys were able to look up the names of their great grandfather and great uncle in the directory, from which they could locate and visit their graves. It was a very special moment.

Cheshire beauties bring a touch of glamour to town

FOURTEEN girls from Cheshire took part in the Miss Cheshire Great Britain contest – organised by Frodsham mother and daughter Tricia Liedl and Laura Wenton.

The event drew big crowds at the Best Western Forest Hills Hotel.

Winner of the Miss Cheshire Title was Brittany Feeney from Ellesmere Port and runner-up was Emma Nelson, from Helsby, a Pilates instructor who also works at the Vintage Teapot tearoom at Lady Hayes.

The winner now goes forward to the Miss Great Britain final at Leicester in September.

Tricia and Laura are both former beauty queens – Laura was in the finals of Miss Great Britain last year – so were able to ensure the evening went well.

In fact, Tricia also provided some of the entertainment singing with her own jazz group, the Tricia Liedl Quartet.

There was also dancing from members of the LA Stage Academy and one girl, Amelia Person, aged eight, sang "Where is Love" from "Oliver" – the first time she had ever sung in public.

A poem was read by comic entertainer John Gorman – formerly of The Scaffold – and compere was former TV comedian Bob Carolgees – without his famed puppet Spit the Dog!

Drama students to perform on stage

They were invited to the theatre following a visit to the school by directors and producers from the Work Bard, Play Bard project to work with a group of Year 9 and Year 10 students, hand-picked from lessons.

The youngsters prepared their interpretation of Shakespeare's "Othello" and took part in a two-hour workshop exploring the themes and issues of the play.

They will be performing their Work Bard production at the Everyman and friends and families will be able to go and watch in action, managed by the professional team at the theatre. The performance will also benefit from the lighting and sound designers' expertise.

Allotments proposal for Ship Street land

A RESOLUTION calling on Frodsham Town Council to offer land in Ship Street for allotments and "non-commercial" ventures is to be put to a Town Meeting on Saturday, July 7.

The resolution, proposed by Mr I Blake, suggests the land could be used for allotments for town residents.

It suggests the tenancy could be held by a not-for-profit group who would manage the land for a period to be agreed and then reviewed.

The Town Meeting is due to be held at the Parish Hall, Church Street.

It is due to start at 12 noon, when residents can meet informally with Town Council and other Town group representatives on matters of interest to the town, including the Neighbourhood Plan, play, crime, community development, planning and community activities.

The meeting has been called by the Town Council, but it is not a council meeting and is intended to give electors from Frodsham an opportunity to raise issues with the council and other organisation.

A formal meeting will start at 1pm when the minutes of the Annual Town Meeting held in March will be noted and the council's annual report will be presented.

It is during the formal meeting that the resolution regarding the Ship Street land be used for allotments will be tabled.

The council has suggested the land be sold for housing – and the meeting will receive a presentation from the Weaver Vale Housing Trust on their proposals for the land if they were to purchase it.

Also on the agenda is an item to discuss possible uses for the capital receipts if the land were sold.

Local solicitors in expansion move

FRODSHAM-based Rowlinsons Solicitors have opened a new office in Sutton Weaver – the largest expansion of the firm since it was founded in 1980.

The firm's main office will remain at Church Street in Frodsham and will continue to offer a full range of legal services and the movement of staff to Sutton Weaver will also increase the amount of meeting space available to clients.

It also increases the number of free parking spaces the firm is able to offer.

The modern office facilities located on Clifton Road will allow room for further expansion over the next few years as the practice invests in further recruitment across all areas of law.

Managing director Andrew Graves said: "We had found ourselves close to capacity for some time now and the chance to take on these superb office facilities just a few miles away was an opportunity we didn't want to miss. About half of our staff will move to the new offices, which allows us substantial room for growth, but we remain committed to our Frodsham office and the local community."

Tom Parkinson, director and head of property commented:

"We are always looking for ways to improve the service we offer to clients and the working environment we provide for our staff. Whilst we anticipate the majority of client meetings will continue to take place in Frodsham we are happy to see clients by appointment at Sutton Weaver and look forward to an exciting 2018 as we continue to grow and develop the firm."

Helsby Hill fire – a warning of what could happen

THE huge fire which broke out on Helsby Hill at the peak of the heatwave started accidentally.

This has been confirmed by Cheshire Fire and Rescue Service.

But fire crews from a wide area had to battle for hours to extinguish the blaze, which involved gorse bushes and tinder-dry grass.

Smoke from the fire was visible for miles across Cheshire and Merseyside.

While it was not as serious as the peat fires which have devastated miles of moorland in Lancashire, it was a serious incident – and a warning that people should ensure they do nothing that could spark off fire during a sustained period of hot, dry weather.

The fire service issued the following advice:

- Avoid lighting open fires in the countryside
- Do not leave bottles or glass in woodlands
- Keep children and ball games away from barbecues
- Extinguish cigarettes and other smoking materials properly
- Only use barbecues in suitable and safe areas and never leave them unattended
- Never throw cigarette ends out of car windows - they can ruin whole fields of crops
- Ensure that barbecues fully extinguished and cold before disposing of the contents
- Sunlight shining through glass can start large fires - take glass bottles/jars home or put them in a waste or recycling bin

Frodsham's oldest resident dies at 105

Picture: Lynda Haney

FRODSHAM'S old resident, former fireman John Miller, has died aged 105.

His funeral took place at St Laurence Church and his hearse was escorted by a vintage fire engine.

The Mayor, Cllr Lord Frank Pennington, former Mayor Mallie Poulton, ex-council chairman Cllr Judith Critchley and the present chairman Cllr Alan Oulton – himself a former fireman – have all sent condolences and sympathy to Mr Miller's family.

Mr Miller is believed to have been the oldest retired firefighter in the country.

When he celebrated his 100th birthday, he visited Frodsham Fire Station and was given a standing ovation by firefighters.

He had dreamed of being a fireman from the age of 10 after seeing local crews battle a blaze that wiped out trees on Overton Hill.

But his most memorable time was during World War 2 when he and other local firefighters were drafted into Liverpool to fight fires caused by the Nazi bombers who blitzed the city.

He was also once transferred to Bournemouth to support local firefighters at a time when a Nazi invasion was thought to be imminent.

Mr Miller continued as a firefighter after the war, rising to the rank of sub-office and retiring in 1963.

He and his wife, Margery, who died in 1973, had two sons and a daughter, seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.
